the complaints and lamentations of stockholders.

Having had but one genuine vacation in ten years of active railroading, the burden finally proved too much for Chairman Mellen's successor, and, if the information at hand is correct, Howard Elliott has broken down.

At the Elliott house in Dublin, N. H., Miss Janet Elliott said to-day:

"Papa will be gone all summer, and cannot tell you where he is, I can only tell you that the doctor told papa that if he didn't take a rest now, he would never be able to work again. The strain was killing him. He was virtually on the edge of a collapse, the loctor said.

CARRANZA AND VILLA

ARE WORKING TOGETHER

Vera Cruz, July 25.—Alfredo Breceda, representative of General Carranza, arrived here to-day from Havana accompanied by F. R. villavicencio, who has been secretary of Rafael Zubaran. Both denied General Carranza intends coming to Vera Cruz, and said it is improbable that he will go to the capital for at least two months.

It is Carranza's plan, they declared, somewhat after the manner of Madero at the close of his successful revolution, to visit town after town in Mexico personally, to reassure the inhabitants. He also desires to avoid being an embarrassing factor in the capital during the period that Provisional President Carbajal is working out the tangles that have fallen to him as ad interim executive.

Breeda probably will go from here to Mexico City to represent General Carranza in personal negotiations there.
Both he and Villavicencio declare Carranza and Villa are working together harmoniously.

As a result of her continuous warbling to sectety women, Mrs. Dewey has acquired to sectety women, Mrs. Dewey has acquired perfect Greuze lips, and throat nuscles as itim as steel, and during the present season hundreds of hostesses are whistling three hours daily, hoping to obtain the same results.

At a soirce given Mrs. Dewey this week, Edimond Rostand wrote a sonnet celebrating her gift, wherein he says; "Your whistling resembles the love songs of counties nightingales on a moonlit night." While Saint Saens has composed the 'Bird Serenata," which he has dedicated to her.

"It is all because I have a throat just like the birds," she tells her friends. "Medical specialists are asking me to will it to them after death, because they say it is quite phenomenal. I have whistled to Tetrazzini, who declared that no human velce is capable of prolucing the notes which I obtain without an effort."

Next week Mrs. Dewey goes to Deauville, where, at the request of her American disciples, she will give numerous whistling parties.

Towns Pay a Dividend

There are nearly half a thousand towns in this territory who have literally cashed in on their municipal improvements, because they put their entire troubles on our shoul-

Some of them wanted plenty of pure water-free from the suspicion of contamination. They asked us to show them how, and we planned, financed, constructed and operated their water works.

Some of them wanted an efficient sewerage system that could be depended on to guard the health of the community. We provided it. Some of them desired electric lights in the business and resident sections. We built and operated their lighting plants, and they made money on the current they sold, besides doubling the value of the real estate in their towns.

Some of them wanted smooth, lasting pavements and drives. We put them down, and they will give continuous service for years to come.

Has your town municipal troubles or worries—has it any growing pains?
